2025 FLORIDA STATE FAIR

Open and Youth Dairy Cow Exhibitors

Due to the HPAI dairy concerns across the United States this year, dairy cattle health requirements might change prior to the show.

Please be sure to check for all Florida updates here: <https://www.fdacs.gov/>

The Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (HPAI/H5N1) virus primarily impacts migratory birds and domestic poultry, but within the last year, it has also been identified in ruminants, including dairy cattle. Considering recent research and additional cases reported in the United States, the Florida State Fair aims to safeguard the dairy industry in Florida. As a precaution, the show will implement additional requirements for dairy cattle participating in the event. Below you will find the updated information:

2024 HPAI Dairy Cattle Announcement – October 2024

Requirements for All Open and Youth Dairy Exhibitors entering lactating dairy cattle in addition to Federal and State mandates

- Dairy exhibitors acknowledge the associated risks of showing and exhibiting lactating dairy cattle at shows and exhibitions.
- Dairy exhibitors also acknowledge that shows and exhibitions are employing responsible bio security measures but shall not be considered the authority or the regulation enforcer. Fairs and exhibitions should not be considered to provide the financial means, supplies or staffing for the implementation of bio security measures.

Whether for show or exhibition, the following criteria must be met and verified for all lactating cows:

- Official documentation showing negative test for each individual cow with the date, time and results of the latest test. Copies must be provided to the fair or exhibition by the exhibitor.
- Only farms identified and approved by the USDA's Monitoring Program are exempt from individual cow tests. However, official documentation showing the date, time and results of the latest test is required. Copies must be provided to the fair or exhibition by the exhibitor.

Exhibitors with lactating cows must also agree to

- Bring own tools: blowers, fans, wheelbarrows, forks, rakes, water/feed buckets
- No communal watering troughs
- No teat stripping on open shavings, pavement; must use containers
- No unloading animals until inspectors conduct their reviews on trailers
- Milk disposal; no ground dumping
- No use of fair's milking facility/equipment. Exhibitors must bring their own

As an Open or Youth Dairy Cow Exhibitor at the 2025 Florida State Fair, I have read and understand the above requirements:
